Sourcing Responsibly for Future Generations

We work closely with our supply chain partners and standard-setting organizations to support responsible and sustainable sourcing. Partners include the Global Aquaculture Alliance, setting the standard for Best Aquaculture Practices in the industry, and multiple projects with the Marine Stewardship Council to accomplish and maintain certification for our wild caught seafood supply chain. Our collaboration with the Sustainable Fisheries Partnership has helped us develop and implement numerous fishery improvement projects that impact seafood production's environmental and social quality for both wild and farmed-raised species.
